MASCOTS OF
'RIGGER CLUBDoings of Junior Members of the Sporting Seaside Organization.

The Outrigger Club has adopted a mascot—a pair of them, in fact. Every day tiny Marie Brooke, of the Seaside Hotel, trots over to help superintend the erection of the grass houses that the Outrigger Club is putting up. Sometimes she takes with her her tame sparrow, and the two, the sparrow perched contentedly on Marie's shoulder, watch the progress of the work.

Tame sparrows, by the way, have become quite a specialty of the Seaside Hotel. Daily these intrusive little birds perch on the chairs of the guests at dinner, and noisily demand crumbs of bread. One young sparrow has taken a violent fancy to five-year-old Marie Brooke, and follows her everywhere, perching on the foot of her bed at night and on the back of her chair at table during meal hours.

Master Arthur Brown, the young son of the Commissioner of Immigration, who occupies one of the hotel cottages, also has a pet sparrow, a pert young bird that followed him home one day and almost pecked out the eye of a member of the family.

When Burton Holmes first visited the Seaside and suggested the formation of the Outrigger Club, he became a slave to little Marie, and declared that she should become its mascot, and so she has—and Marie, by the way, has just written a very cute letter to her moving picture admirer.

The Outrigger Club grounds in their present state of building operations are, of course, the frequent lounging place of all the urchins of Waikiki. Prince David's little son and daughter, who are the guests of Major Purdy, are daily visitors, and spend much of their time playing under the grass roofs of the native Hawaiian houses.

Master Arthur Gilman is also a frequent visitor, and has the honor of placing in commission the first of the fleet of outrigger canoes belonging to club members.

Dr. Humphris bought a small canoe the day he paid his dues and became a member—but alas! the canoe leaked, lacked a coat of paint, and was divorced from its outrigger. Dr. Humphris can decline the splenic coil backward, but when young Gilman began talking to him about putting on new yakas and an ama, the Doctor discreetly said, "Do so, my boy, and you are a partner in my boat."

So for a week there was boiling of pitch and tying of outriggers, then Sunday the Doctor was taken out for a trial spin in the deep. He behaved splendidly, so did the canoe, until the little captain decided to give his partner—what is technically known among the boys of Waikiki—a diploma, so he suggested that the Doctor sit further forward, selected a big wave, and down shot the canoe until she touched coral. Then there was a half-mile swim in to shore. Tom Sawyer couldn't have managed the thing better himself, and the only fly in the ointment to Master Arthur was the fact that meanwhile his chum, Harold Hustace, was doing the "Joe Harper" act, much to the delight of Ruth Soper, who under his tutelage is learning to ride the surfboard like a professional. Ruth is the leader of a little group of Punahou schoolgirls who have taken up surfing since the Outrigger Club was formed, and insist that they will have a club and clubhouse of their own if the boys' club dues do not admit girl members.

Ruth's ambition is to stand on the board and Harold is sure that she will in two more lessons.

Little Margaret Center, the charming fancy dancer, is another dainty youngster who comes to the beach frequently to take surfing lessons from the club members. In fact, it will not be long before quite a number of young girls will be able to stand on the board, something that has not been seen at Waikiki for several years.

Crews are beginning to form for canoe practice, and the expert surfboarders are also beginning to practice up the old stroke. Master Harold Hustace won the cup at the last surfing contest, but his brother Curtis, Atherton Gilman, Lane Webster and several newcomers in the field are among those named as possible winners of the first club contest.

Balls, dances, smokers and concerts are already being discussed under the open grass roofs of the Outrigger Club, and Mrs. Arnold, who now presides over the destinies of the Seaside

Hotel, but was once protegee of Queen Emma and used to stand on the surfboard with her in the good old days, is taking a deep interest in the club that now owns the land once possessed by the Queen. Mrs. Arnold and little Marie discuss quite seriously sometimes a great luau that is to take place on the grounds of the Outrigger Club, when it is expected that the club mascot will be permitted to remain up long enough to assist the friend of Queen Emma, who is to prepare the feast. There are happy days at the seaside just now, and more new boards were tried Sunday than ever before.

KAMEHAMEHA DAY RACES

There will be three or four match races at Kapiolani Park on the afternoon of Kamehameha Day and those interested are trying to arrange a program which will fill in the time from 3 to 6 p. m.

Makaka and the bay surprise party which defeated the black last Saturday will hook up again over a quarter of a mile.

There will also be a three-cornered race at a quarter between Judge Andrade's sorrel horse, E. H. Lewis' Shamrock and a sorrel runner from Hawaii. George Ward's Kauai horse will run a half with Duke Spencer Jr., and there is possibility of a return match between Indigo and Sure Shot at three-eighths of a mile. Indigo, it will be remembered, beat Sure Shot by a neck at the same distance a week ago.

Another event may be an automobile race with speed counting all the way. An effort is to be made to induce the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co. to offer some purses. The crowd which will attend the races will certainly be large enough to warrant the company expending a little in the way of purses.

MAY EAT PIES ON DIAMOND

The proposed pie-eating contest is taking shape and a number of local newsboys have already gone into training for the great event.

The contest will probably be held at the baseball park some Saturday before the first game. Whether the Rapid Transit Co. will issue passes for the pie-eaters is not yet known.

The S. P. C. A. are taking an interest in the affair and it is understood that they will protest against pies being used made of fruits with stones in them, such as mangoes, plums and apricots. It is feared that the hurried demolition of pies made with the fruits mentioned may lead to unpleasant results, should the stones be swallowed in the excitement of the contest.

It is rumored that the Bulletin team will compete under the name of the Elephant Ears, while the Star aggregation will go in under the title of the Open Mugs. The Advertiser team will be called either the Gobblers or the Silt Mouths.

J. W. W. Brewster will act as manager of the Star pie artists and Sporting Editor Moore of the Bulletin will coach the Vealies in the art of getting away with the pastry.

"Beans" Singer has kindly offered to provide all the pies needed at cost.

STEVENS-DURYEA "SIX" VICTORIES

NEW YORK, April 16th, 1908.

In this year's Fort George hillclimb contest the best climber in the stock car division evolved in the Stevens-Duryea "Six" which, piloted by P. J. Robinson, captured not only the $3000 to $4000 gasoline event, but the six-cylinder cup as well.

FURTHER VICTORY

HARTFORD, May 16th, 1908.

In the 174 mile endurance run of the Automobile Club of Hartford, over Hartford-Waterbury route, the light "Six" with 4 passengers averaged 15 1-7 miles per gallon of gasoline, winning the gasoline consumption test for cars over $3000.

These victories were won over the best imported and American cars.

Here is the light "Six."

GOLF TOURNEY FOR SATURDAY

There will be a medal play golf tournament at the Country Club on Thursday, June 11.

The tournament will be a special event and outside of the regular fixtures of the club.

The entry list will open on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and will close at 2 p. m.

Two handsome prizes are offered and a substantial lunch will be served on the ground for the players and guests.

Base Hits

Reuter was in fine form Saturday, with speed to burn.

Lota and Bruns acted the part of tumblers in their mix-up at first.

Fern was all there with the willow, doing much to bring the game home for his team.

Mackenzie, for his first season in the big league, is doing well, especially in his hunting.

Soares changed positions with Barney, and then retired with a nasty gash on his "meat hand."

Olmos seldom misjudges a ball, but was certainly off when taking Henderson's pretty hit in the third.

Leslie was wild and in poor form to relieve Chillingworth, who was doing nicely at the time of his release.

The Kams, have that winning streak again, and with a little encouragement there'll be no holding them at all.

Kia put a stop to the Jewels' chance of winning by making one more of his impossibles, retiring the side at a critical moment.

Davis redeemed his bad throwing by planting one over in the Japanese village outside the fence and romping home in grand style.

Evers' one-handed stop in the eighth was of the kind that come in books only. No one even thought he'd try for it, yet he got it.

The fans are alive with interest now, in expectation of what will happen when the Diamond Heads and Kamehamehas meet next Saturday.

George Kluegel was in his usual position on the Ewa bleachers, but was in poor voice for coaching. "Doe" Mon-sarrat filled the gap acceptably.

Kia's hit came near to being the longest hit on record in this ground, the ball going up against the fence near the score board, with a good roll still in it.

Barney was there in blue as usual, and the league is five bones richer. Silence is golden in some cases, and Barney was all the former throughout the game. Like the parrot, however, he thought a whole lot.

Saturday's games were full of surprises for the fans who have been following the games this season, the biggest surprise of all coming in the setback of the Jewels. Recovering from a bad inning of errors and poor throwing, they played a beautiful uphill game, and should have won.

Bert was slow in getting the boys under way. Several of the players have
